NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The attendance at the State Fair Saturday was quite small.

James Devine was stabbed and killed by a Chinese prostitute in Nevada City on Saturday night.

Apprehensive of a difficulty with the Chinese, the British Government is about to strengthen its fleet in the Chinese waters.

Judge Walter Murray, candidate for reelection in the First Judicial District, has been so ill that a few days ago his life was despaired of, but he is now reported somewhat improved.

A portion of the Fall River, Mass., weavers went to work yesterday and the strikers attempted to get up a riot, but failed.

In a fire at Sacramento on Sunday morning a woman, supposed to be a Mrs. Smith, was burned to death. The deceased formerly kept the New York House, on First street.

The Collector of Customs at San Francisco has received notice to reduce the pay of his employees.

The Custom House officers at San Francisco have made some important seizures.

The Bank of California syndicate have commenced calling in the per cent. on subscriptions. About $200,000 were paid in yesterday.

The troops sent from San Francisco on the Nevada Indian reservation will return to their respective stations this week.

The recent hurricane drove a number of vessels ashore at St. Thomas. Two British ships in that port lost some twenty of their crew.

Abbe Joseph Chabot, a priest and Principal of the Government school of Art and Design at Montreal, has been arrested on a charge of raping a girl fifteen.

The mother of little Mabel Young, who was killed in the belfry of the Warren Avenue Baptist Church, Boston, has become insane and has been placed in a private asylum.

European Powers have advised Turkey not to pursue the insurgents into Servia and Montenegro.

The Bank of Nevada county opened last Wednesday with one hundred and sixty thousand dollars in sight.

When the depositors saw that the bank had it they did not want it.

The proprietors of the Bulletin and Call have sued the Alta for libel.

These gentlemen have been the defendants in a score or more of libel suits and we suppose they have bought this suit in order to experience the sensation of the other side.

SARGENT has hastened off to Washington. This is characteristic of the little Quaker Hill Statesman.

Just when his friends and it may be partners in the whiskey business, have got into trouble he runs away.

Every Federal officer in California holds his place by permission of SARGENT and if any of them are implicated in the whiskey frauds it is the duty of the master to stay and see his servants honorably discharged or safely landed behind the bars of a prison.

THE contest for the speakership of the Assembly seems to have narrowed down to General McCONNELL of this county and Judge ARCHER of Santa Clara county. Both are able men and old Democrats and no matter which is chosen the Assembly will have an efficient presiding officer.

While we concede the ability and qualifications of Judge ARCHER we claim like recommendations for our townsman General McCONNELL, and because he is our townsman and we know his fitness for the place we shall hope that the honor will be conferred upon him.

In San Francisco when an unarmed prisoner attempts to escape the officer shoots him dead. It is a cheap and safe way to kill a man. One always takes better aim, is cooler and fires with more precision when the target is the back of a defenseless man, than when the aim must be taken while confronting the muzzle of another pistol. It always affects one's nerves more or less to know that the man you are shooting at has a pistol and is as liable to shoot some one as to be shot. We doubt if the people will endorse the too common habit of San Francisco officers of shooting down unarmed men whose only offense is an attempt to avoid arrest.

A Question of Right.

The question is raised as to the equity and justice of the Common Council in compelling the owners of property on Main street to construct at their own expense a main sewer which it is intended shall become the conduit for the sewage of a large proportion of the city. We believe the rule usually observed in such cases where the rights of citizens are respected, is very simple and easily enforced. It is as follows: The frontage of all property to be benefited by the main sewer, is measured as well as that on the street through which the improvement is to be made; the entire cost determined and the amount divided by the aggregate front feet of property on every street benefited and thus the quotient becomes the unit of assessment. This is the proper course to pursue and is in fact the only one which can be legally enforced. If the Common Council attempt to sell the property of citizens on Main street to construct assessments levied for the construction of the main sewer through that street they will involve the city in a tissue of lawsuits which will cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars. Before these assessments can be collected by legal process it will devolve upon the Council to prove that this main sewer is constructed for the sole and exclusive purpose of draining the property on Main street, and that the property on no other street in the city is benefited thereby. If the theory of the Council is correct that the property owners in the lower half of a city shall at their own expense construct the main sewer for the whole city a system of appreciation of the higher property and depreciation of the lower will be at once inaugurated which will work serious loss to many property holders in this city.

The Wilmington Bar.

The work of excavating a channel through the bar at the mouth of Wilmington harbor is progressing rapidly and the results are now beyond the expectations of the engineers who conceived the enterprise. The bar was originally about three thousand feet wide, of which some fifteen hundred feet on the ocean side is a stiff clay filled with boulders, the balance being composed mainly of sand. The dredges have cut a channel inwards from the anchorage one thousand feet in length to the depth of thirteen feet. It was supposed that if the clay ridge forming the outer half of the bar was cleared away the sand on the inside would be washed out by the ebb-tide.

This calculation has in a measure been verified, for since the comb of the ridge has been cut the channel through the sand inside has been deepened to seven feet in its shallowest part at mean low tide, whereas, not more than half that depth existed before. It is reasonable therefore to suppose that when the excavation is completed through the clay nature will finish the work, and allow vessels drawing fifteen to eighteen feet in ingress and egress at mean high tide.

Inside the bar there is a natural harbor having a depth of eighteen to twenty feet and this extends to within about twelve hundred yards of the wharf. Whether a channel will be dredged over this space up to the wharf, or the wharf be extended to deep water has not yet been definitely determined, but it is probable dredging will be less costly both in the first expenditures and as regards annual repairs. We may therefore claim that the labors of the able engineers who conceived and are carrying out the present system of improvements at Wilmington have been rewarded by results that certainly justify the appropriations that have been made, and warrant additional expenditures until the desired end is reached.

Survey the Land.

According to the figures of the Federal Surveyor General, J. T. STRATTON, there are now over forty-six million acres of government land unsurveyed in the State of California, out of a total of one hundred million acres. The private grants surveyed aggregate eight million three hundred thousand acres, and the public lands surveyed forty-one and a half millions of acres. Thus it is seen that the public domain yet unsurveyed embraces about one half the area owned by the government. Inasmuch as settlers gain comparatively no rights by occupation of unsurveyed lands, all the settlers on a quarter section having equal rights in the subdivision when surveyed, regardless of the time of settlement, and owing to the impossibility of distinguishing railroad from the public lands this part of the public property is neglected except by those who locate bee ranches here and there upon the mountain slopes hoping by the occupancy of the water to ward off other settlers upon the same tract. There is a large quantity of this unsurveyed land that is valuable and deserves cultivation, and the State would be greatly benefited by an early completion of the surveys. A large and valuable class of immigrants could be induced to come to our State if public lands could be readily obtained. Thousands of poor yet hardy and expert farmers, who, having families, are not in a condition to move about from place to place seeking employment by the month; weary with the depression and disasters of the States are ready to remove to this coast. They have the means perhaps to bring them to our State and enable them to cultivate a tract, but could not purchase private lands at the current rates. California needs this bone and sinew but cannot get it without offering public lands for pre-emption and homestead claims. Let all the public lands then be surveyed at as early a date as practicable.

A Modern Brutus.

In these days of loose fitting laws and a pliable judicial system, family influence is the most effective shield against the penalties of crime. In Democratic America where the poorest citizen is theoretically equal before the law with the richest in the land we behold the judicial axe withheld from the neck robed in costly attire. The power of wealth in shielding the criminal from just punishment is nowhere more potent than in the United States. A poor man steals a ham, and is committed to the prison as a felon; the son of a rich family appropriates a hundred thousand dollars of his employer's money and the law is powerless. The stain upon the family escutcheon is covered with gold, and the culprit is quietly sent to some other quarter of the country to repeat the operation. The infliction of the deserved punishment is regarded as a disgrace, the commission of the crime is naught. If the culprit can be kept out of the State prison the family name is not clouded. It is really refreshing therefore when a Roman father appears here and there in our annals, a man who regards the commission of a crime a severance of the ties of blood, and calls out in the midst of his shame and sorrow, for justice to award its proper punishment. Ex Judge FISHER of Washington, the telegraph informs us, will take no steps to shield his son, the assistant District Attorney who is now confined for his crimes at the capital of the nation. Here is a citizen worthy of the republic. Would that there were enough such to elevate the standard nearer to that of the grand old Roman. The circumstance at Washington calls to mind the worst notable example of that public spirit which made the descendants of AENEAS the masters of the world. LUCIUS BRUTUS swore upon the dagger reeking with the blood of LUCRETIA to destroy the Tarquin. He made the people swear never to submit to the kingly authority. His own son was the first to violate the pledge. The great Roman set upon the bench at the trial of his offspring, pronounced him guilty and attended the execution of the traitor.

For Los Angeles.

CALIENTE, September 25th.—The following passengers left on Telegraph Stage line for Los Angeles to-day: A. H. Fong, Mrs. A. A. Fong, C. Anderson, C. Smythe, C. Thomas, W. B. Pritchard and W. M. Johnson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Saturday last, on the arrival of the Panama steamer, the Custom House officials made an important seizure of contraband goods. For some time they have been aware that smuggling was being carried out extensively, by certain parties who were importing lines and other semi-tropical fruits from Mexican ports, and were waiting for an opportunity to make a seizure by the latest steamer. But our authorities had received notification to be on the lookout for a quantity of contraband goods that would arrive on the following steamer. Saturday morning when the vessel was telegraphed as coming into port, an extra force of inspectors was sent to the wharf, and when the freight was discharged they pounced upon a quantity of boxes and cartons, which they opened at the sides instead of the top, and in the center of each box, surrounded by a layer of limes, was found a package done up in oil cloth, containing fine Havana and Mexican cigars. There were twenty-eight cartons, and the value of the goods seized will amount to several thousand dollars. The importer to whom the goods were consigned says he was ignorant of the contents of the boxes; that they were intended for other parties, and were only shipped through his care. A number of similar boxes addressed to other parties were opened, but found "square."

Mr. John Royal, who is now stopping at the Occidental Hotel has submitted for inspection some samples of rock rich in free gold and sulphurets, which he discovered in the southeast corner part of Kern county on the summit of the Sierras, about four miles from Sageland, where Hon. John P. Jones has some rich mines. There are four ledges, about four feet each in width, cropping out on the surface, and gold is distinctly visible in all through the rock, which is decomposed quartz. The discoverer believes he has made a very valuable find, as the ledges have been traced to a considerable distance and the rock contains equally rich.

Shortly before two o'clock yesterday the partition separating the heating apparatus of the Harmon Hotel from the kitchen, was discovered on fire. The fire department was promptly on the ground, and the flames were extinguished in time to save the valuable building from destruction. The fire patrol entered the handsome furniture in the upper parlors, and mopping up the water on the floor, thus preventing the rich frescoing on the lower floor from being destroyed by water. The fine Turkish carpet in the ladies' parlor was considerably damaged by water, as was the carpet in the entry. It will take at least $500 to cover the loss on the carpets, while the damage to the roof, woodwork and furniture will exceed $5,000.

John McCormick is porter of the steamer Los Angeles, which lies at Market street wharf. On Saturday evening he went to bed in his room, placing his pants, with $67 in the pocket, under his head. About 3 o'clock in the morning the watchman woke him up, when he found clothing and money missing. A search disclosed the pants lying on the floor of the steamer, and the pocket, being called in a thorough search of the vessel was made, resulting in finding Wm. Driscoll, steward, hid away in one of the sailors' bunks, and in the berth over his head was found the money, hidden under the mattress. Driscoll was arrested.

Subscriptions to the Bank of California Syndicate fund are pouring in at a lively rate to-day. The assessment is 20 per cent. on the amount subscribed. The notices were served Saturday afternoon, and the first money was paid in this morning. Up to 3 P. M. about $200,000 had been paid in. The Syndicate manifest commendable zeal in the matter.

A communication was received this morning by Collector Shannon from Secretary Bristow, containing information of such importance to all employees of this department, that the contents were at once promulgated, and created a wide-spread feeling of despondency. Under the new system inaugurated by the Secretary there is to be an equalization of salaries of customs officers throughout the country, which of course necessitates a material reduction in San Francisco.

Ranging from 15 to 20 per cent. This fell swoop comes down on the whole crowd with the exception of the Collector and his deputies, whose salaries are regulated by law and are therefore not within the authority of Mr. Bristow to change. The salaries of Customs and Chief Adjuster of Duties are reduced from $3,000 to $2,500 each. Many clerks who have been receiving $1,500 each will hereafter be content with $1,000, and a large proportion have been cut down to $1,400.

The Santa Cruz Murder.

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 26.—The Coroner's inquest on the body of Edgar May, who was murdered at this place last evening, was held at 4 P. M. to-day.

The verdict is that he came to his death by a knife wound, which pierced the base of the right auricle of the heart, and committed by N. Haserton, whom they bound over to appear before the Grand Jury, charged with deliberate murder. A general feeling of indignation prevails, and there is some talk of lynching about, but as the jail is strongly guarded, it is not likely to occur. The prisoner maintains self composure on being visited in his cell, evincing no signs of uneasiness. He is said to have remarked, "If I must die for it, I will do it like a man." Discharge papers were found on his person from the United States army, bearing the above name. The body of May was taken to Watsonville this afternoon for burial, accompanied by relatives from that place. His mother and friends reside in Oakland, and will be in attendance at the funeral.

The Masonic Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge of F. and A. M. of California, will assemble in Masonic Temple in San Francisco, on Tuesday, Oct. 12th. There are now within this jurisdiction over two hundred Lodges, which have a membership of about twelve thousand. Ex-Governor H. H. Haight is the grand orator, and is expected to deliver one of the best orations ever heard in the Masonic Temple.

Virginia City Items.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., Sept. 27th.—Early yesterday morning several large show windows on C street were broken by cuts done by a diamond. The principal damage done was on the elegant show window of Fredericks' jewelry establishment, which were terribly defaced with a lot of billingsgate. The windows are valued at $700 each. Two men, named Cummings and Anderson, have been arrested on suspicion of having committed the outrage.

About 2 o'clock this afternoon a woman named Medley walked into the Delta saloon, on C street, and forcing her way through the crowd at the bar, drew out a pistol and attempted to shoot James W. Orndorff, one of the proprietors. Her arm was arrested by a bystander before she pulled the trigger, and she was given into the custody of a police officer. Jealousy is supposed to be the cause.

A miner named David L. Jones was caught upon the Consolidated Virginia mine at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. A large piece of rock fell upon him, striking his right leg above the ankle, breaking both bones and fracturing the large one very badly.

CAST IRON SEWING MACHINES. Is what some of our sewing machine agents are pleased to call the REMINGTON SEWING MACHINE. Perhaps they may wish a harder name for them when their merits are fully known to the people of Southern California. Though hardly three months since its introduction in Los Angeles, it has already become a pet machine, and in ease in running and perfection in construction it stands unrivaled. In the Eastern States it has already taken the place of the older and harder running machines. In the manufacture of their family machines they have increased from 40,000 to 85,000 in the past four months, and to-day with their large facilities for turning out 250 machines per day, the Remington folks are 2,000 behind in filling orders and are obliged to enlarge their works. In the manufacture of their rifles, revolvers, agricultural implements, type writer, etc., their name has become a synonym of perfection in work and material, and everyone knows when it bears the stamp of Remington it is good and up to not behind—the times. Do the Singer folks base the merits of their machines upon the sales of former years, the Remington base theirs upon the merits of their machine as it stands to-day, and are ready to try it against any machine in the market.

Mr. A. M. Jaynes, general agent of the Remington sewing machine, for Southern California, has an office at 60 and 62 Spring street and Mrs. Daly, at the White House, has opened a local emporium for the sale of this popular machine. Testimonials by the thousand from tailors and dress-makers might be procured testifying to the merits of the Remington sewing machine, but its wonderful popularity is the true test of its worth. The Remington factory turns out two hundred and fifty machines a day and still the demand far exceeds the capacity of the works. It is a light running machine, easily kept in order and does every kind of work in an admirable manner. A trial of the Remington will convince any one of its merits, and thousands of the other makes have been thrown away to make room for this wonderful sewer. The skeptical should call either at 60 and 62 Spring street or the White House, and examine the work done by it.

Saturday night about 7 o'clock a woman named Nancy Jefferson, colored, living on Los Angeles street, committed suicide by taking a dose of poison. Dr. Dalton was summoned and administered the usual antidotes, but convulsions continued until about midnight, when death came to her relief. She had been drinking hard previous to the commission of the act, and probably took the dose in a fit of despondency. She was a woman of loose character, and the principal witness examined at the inquest was a man who cohabited with her. The coroner held an inquest Sunday, and a verdict of suicide was rendered. Nancy was 26 years of age, and American by birth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Deaver were serenaded by the 38s last night at the Backman.

In the manufacture of their family machines they have increased from 40,000 to 85,000 in the past four months, and to-day with their large facilities for turning out 250 machines per day, the Remington folks are 2,000 behind in filling orders and are obliged to enlarge their works. In the manufacture of their rifles, revolvers, agricultural implements, type writer, etc., their name has become a synonym of perfection in work and material, and everyone knows when it bears the stamp of Remington it is good and up to not behind—the times. Do the Singer folks base the merits of their machines upon the sales of former years, the Remington base theirs upon the merits of their machine as it stands to-day, and are ready to try it against any machine in the market.

A Frankman Killed. SALT LAKE, Sept. 27th.—William Fuens, while tightening a car brake on the Southern Utah railroad this morning, near Cottonwood station, fell and was crushed to death. He was 30 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children at Salt Lake.

A Sad Result. BOSTON, Sept. 27th.—The mother of little Mabel Young, who was killed in the belfry of the Warren Avenue Baptist church, has become insane and has been placed in a private asylum.

Mr. A. M. Jaynes, general agent of the Remington sewing machine, for Southern California, has an office at 60 and 62 Spring street and Mrs. Daly, at the White House, has opened a local emporium for the sale of this popular machine. Testimonials by the thousand from tailors and dress-makers might be procured testifying to the merits of the Remington sewing machine, but its wonderful popularity is the true test of its worth.
